BUYER EXPECTATIONS

What today’s generation actually wants

Self-service with safety net

Digital self-service should be the default with human support as backup.

“Get it done now” beats “talk to us next week” in every category.

Transparency and control

They want to see what they’re paying for and know how to change it. With no strings.

Add, adjust, amend, and change with ease. Tailored every month.

Proactive, not just reactive

They value providers that help them understand and mitigate risk – but with perfect timing.

Leverage company data to autopilot a low-interest field.

Integrated into their workflows

The ideal experience is to show up seamlessly inside tools they already use and love.
